Harry Spiller made us a call early Tuesday morning and added a tire to our collection of lost articles. See ad in Intelligence Column.

C. R. Mills of Fryeburg has come out this week with his "Fryeburg Fliver" (note: not his Fryeburg Flivver.) Look over the paper and you will find said column under its usual head. Mr. Mills has been otherwise engaged during the summer and fall but provided us some "Fliver" material as winter approached, so here is a beginner and we hope more will follow.

D. M. Stuart, the auctioneer, of Harrison, is a busy man. We have printed dodgers, posters and an ad in this paper for an auction at his place, Saturday, November 24. Look up the ad for a nice line of household goods, sleighs, snowshoes, etc., go to the highest bidder.

Mrs. Doris Lord of Bethel made us a short call last Tuesday.

Howard E. Moulton, says: "Frank P. Stone, the druggist went into business in Norway, Wednesday, November 14th. 1888." We wonder how he knows!

Our esteemed contemporary Editor and competitor, Chas. H. Fogg, of the Houlton (Me.) Times has another loving cup. This one was recently given him in Montreal, P. Q. It was a prize for the best first page advertising layout in competition with big town weeklies and small town dailies. He won, as usual. The Times got it.

Bro. Fogg must have a dooryard full of 'em as he has been winning these cups for the past ten years. They make excellent flower pots for the summer time and attractive indoor keepsakes for the rest of the year.

We extend congratulations.

Our stock of stray mittens and gloves is diminishing. The latest addition was a new black leather glove handed in by Charles Morse. This didn't repose long in the morgue, for Dr. W. B. Raymond of South Paris claimed the property and went on his way rejoicing.

A bicycle was left in Alec Locke's door yard, Monday evening, after the miniature celebration at the head of Main Street. The owner may find his property at Mr. Locke's; should there be no owner, the Locke boys can make good use of the wheel while giving thanks to some Santa Claus.

Leroy Spiller's sensational rumor that a thief at Elwin S. Russell's had been trapped in the cellar created some excitement for news gatherers. Leroy added that the victim was an innocent boarder, so if Elwin set traps for his mealers he was all done eating there. A scoop fell flat when the writer hurried to the scene and found a rat that had devoured a cabbage or two was the hero of this tale.

A Norway hunter kills a deer barehanded with a jackknife. The Lucerne hunters scorn to catch porcupines that way. They use the bow and arrow.

Will it be Arnold or the Montgomery Trail? One went over the route and the other didn't. If we were to decide, it would be the former.

Philip Everett called in Thursday, to see if anyone had found and brought in an iron jack screw. Monday, when he helped F. E. Trask move to Round Pond, the jack screw was lost off between the corn shop and Round Pond.

Mrs. Clarence L. Ridlon and sister, Mrs. Fred E. Smith, called Wednesday afternoon and placed a "lost" ad in the Intelligence Column. Mrs. Ridlon lost a bracelet on October 31, either in South Paris or Norway and is anxious to find it. It was a band of sapphires and briliants set in white gold. See ad.

We have a "Who's Who"—15th volumn. If you want to look it over, come in and do so.

Walter Sanborn said in his paper the day before election:

"Don Seitz's opinion that Smith will be beaten tomorrow is characteristically unqualified. "If," "but" and "providing" seem to have been omitted from Mr. Seitz's dictionary."

Mr. Seitz expressed this same opinion several times in this paper before election. He was right.

Fred H. Cummings found a bar pin, Wednesday, and left it at this office to be claimed by owner.

"Practice maketh perfect,"
The proverb so doth teach—
Especially if we practice
The fine things that we preach.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

Celebrated Football Victory

The football season closed Monday forenoon at the Fair Grounds when the South Paris High School eleven defeated Norway High with the score 19-6.

An outburst of enthusiasm was in evidence soon after the game which developed into an auto trip through some of the streets of Norway. A decorated car full of girls was a target for stale eggs and decayed fruit, but this unsavory barrage failed to squelch the cheers and joyous feeling. It is believed here that the students of Norway High were not responsible for the odious reception.

The real celebration was held in the evening, beginning with a venison supper to the team and served by Leon and Ray Russell at their farm. In the meantime the students collected boxes, barrels and anything combustible for a bonfire in Market Square. The torch was applied at 7.30, followed by snake dances and speeches, then all hands marched to the Congregational vestry where an impromptu sociable was held to the accompaniment of the church bell.

As the Norway goals had been removed from the fair grounds and used for fuel in the celebration, a reprisal was made while the fire was at its height, and the Paris goals disappeared from the athletic field. It is reported the material was given a joy ride across the line to Norway.

Minstrel Chuckles Full of Variety

The Minstrel Chuckles, a show of music, mirth, brilliant costumes and attractive scenery was presented by local talent at Association Hall, Saturday evening, before a good sized audience.

In general make up the show followed in some respects the style of minstrels and musical comedy. After the prologue there were four end men or Toreadores, Dr. J. M. Mansir, Ernest Descoteau, H. Walker Abbott and Forrest "Pink" Conant, who cracked jokes with Eugene Lowell, the interlocutor, after the opening number. Nine song hits were introduced during the circle which carried a Spanish setting and atmosphere quite new for the town.

Those taking part besides the colored comedians mentioned were Gordon Stewart, Donald Chapman, Ralph Johnson, Roy Conant, Robert Hicks and Henry Woodworth. The pony ballet included Mary Colby, Arline Tunney, Dorothy Hammond, Martha Briggs, Glenna Turner and Helen Merrill. The circle of vocalists, otherwise "Matadores" introduced, besides a number before mentioned, Thomas Barnes, Herbert Woodworth, Albion Pratt, James House, James Combellack and Donald Ridley. Miss Emma West was also among the pleasing soloists. Barbara Swan and Earl Combellack appeared in a duet, "Sunbonnet Sallie and Overall Jim."

Part two was a group of song specialties and dances, introducing Doris Marston, Ivan Gibbs, Genevieve Hayes, Madlyn Bell, Ava Lord, Gertrude Tuttle, Nellie Fields, Catherine Cameron, Amy Lord and Greta Merrill.

Part four was an entertaining combination of light burlesque staged at or near the North pole. The title, "Tut Tut Tuttle" was exploited during the session of breezy dialoue, and some stepping to the syncopation of song numbers given by several in the cast. In this portrayal of an impossible situation in the frozen north appeared Herbert Woodworth, Reta Shaw, Donald Ridley, Stephen Russell, Dr. Mansir and Frank Card. The dainty Eskimo Maids were Helen Brown, Evelyn Record, Julia Bumpus, Norinne Bryant, Muriel Titus and Isabella Fleming. A group of detectivettes was made up of Barbara Swan, Marion Hayes, Phyllis Johnson, Georgia Thayer, Esther Woodworth, Arline Butts, Reta Dumas and Carlene Farnham.

Mrs. Marguerite Johnson was at the piano with Shaw's Orchestra to accompany the show and furnish music for a dance afterwards.

The entertainment was staged by Geo. F. Long of the John B. Rogers Production Co., and under the auspices of Arthur S. Foster Post, No. 72, American Legion.

HYMN TO ALMIGHTY GOD

By Harry G. Chase

Almighty God, to thee I bring
My humble tribute note of praise,
Thy wondrous works thou mighty King
From everlasting days.
The starry splendor of thy skies,
The golden light from far off sun,
The mellow glow where moon beams lie
On landscape fair when day is done.
Do all proclaim thy mighty hand
Which made and keeps them on their way
To glorify thee who made man
To live forever and for aye.
Thy voice is heard in whispering breeze
Where silvery cascades fall,
Thy voice is heard in minor keys,
Mid murmuring pine trees tall.
Thy voice is heard when thunders roll
And lurid lightnings 'lume the sky,
Thy voice is heard from Pole to Pole,
Where giant icebergs crashing lie.
What are the works of man to thine?
They are as sand upon the shore,
Lashed by the waves of ocean brine,
Which onward flow forevermore.
Lord keep within us, humble hearts,
Nor let the pride of wealth and power
Possess us 'till with all our arts
We fall like Rome in danger's hour.
God of our Fathers! Lead us on!
And let our Nation long endure,
To walk in paths of right, not wrong,
And keep thine ancient promise sure.

ROOMS FOR TWO

J. Dawson Ovens, for years a member of the famous Northwest Mounted Police of Canada had a biting humor all his own.

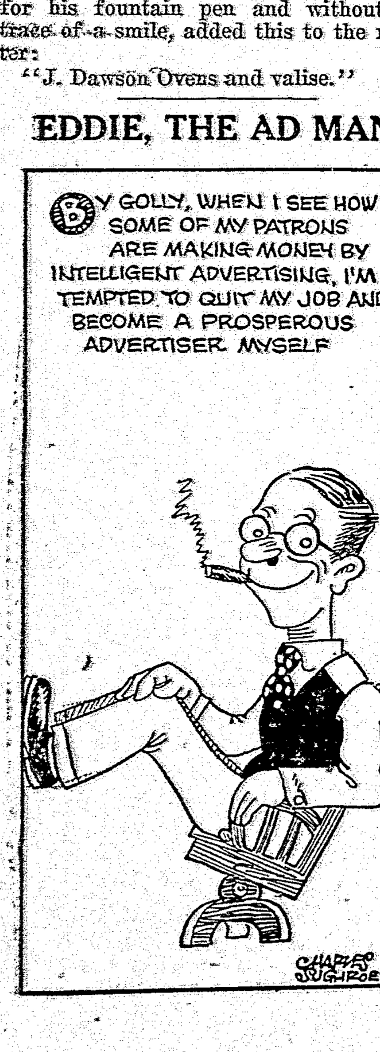

He followed a pompous individual to the hotel register one day, toting a little valise that contained all the clothing he deemed necessary for a short stay. The man ahead was accompanied by a heavily laden servant.

"B. Alliway Bruce and valet" signed the pompous one.

Ovens glanced at the signature, reached for his fountain pen and without the trace of a smile, added this to the register:

"J. Dawson Ovens and valise."

WATERFORD FLAT

Birthplace of Artemus Ward and Ten Miles N. W. from Norway

Election passed off quietly with a good vote. One of the oldest people to vote, was Mrs. Ellen Green, eighty-seven years of age, but very young and smart for a lady with so many years to her credit.

Dr. Hubbard and his three children went to Hatfield, Mass. on Saturday, to bring his mother to Waterford where she will spend the winter.

E. L. Stone hurt his thumb quite badly while reading meters.

The annual meeting of the Waterford Annanias Club, for the rejection of officers, was held at the Artemus Ward home, on Tuesday evening, November 6th. The attendance was large but there being no promising new material, all nominations were rejected and the old officers hold over for another year. There being no further business, labor was suspended, the radio turned on and the election returns received. Refreshments were served from 10 p. m. to 3 a. m. The delectables were the result of a much appreciated "shower," or more truthfully speaking, a "deluge," from the wives and sweethearts of the members present. As an added attraction to the evening's entertainment, the worthy President, staged an exhibition game of sixty-three. Unfortunately, he showed a bad reversal of form and it was the unanimous opinion of the members, that hereafter he confine his efforts at card playing to Old Maid or Slap Jack. At 3 a. m. feeling that the country was unsafe for democrats, the meeting adjourned, sine die—annaniasly, translated meaning, no sign of a dead one. This program comes to you from Station W-AN-C, the secretary announcing.

TIME TO TURN ON THE LIGHTS

Artificial lights in the poultry house will increase egg production from November to March, if good care in feeding, management, and housing is given. Lights lengthen the hen's working day, giving her more time to feed. Consequently when the short days of winter are made longer and she eats more egg-making feeds, her production is increased and also the farmer's profits. Ten eggs laid in December are worth twenty laid in April or May. Where lights are used, the hens should have additional feed. As a rule, it is more profitable to use artificial lights with well-matured pullets.

You can learn a lot of things at home, but they are not the things the correspondence schools charge you so much a lesson for.

Preservation of World Peace

Insistent Demand Throughout Country for Ratification of Kellogg Pact for Peace

President K. C. M. Sills of Bowdoin College in the course of his Armistice Day talk said:

"We have to be sure to our lasting credit the negotiations under the leadership of President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg that led to the signing of the Paris pact renouncing war as an instrument of national policy. That fact is in itself a magnificant gesture and can become a great agency for the preservation of world peace if it has behind it the public sentiment of the nations.

"Here and now there is before us all as American citizens a pressing duty, a present task. The Paris pact will come up for ratification by the Senate of the United States next month. There are disturbing reports that it is to be sidetracked until other legislation not wholly consistant with the spirit of the past is passed; and that ratification may be delayed or clouded with reservations.

"The American people should see to it that in the graveyard of the Senate is not again buried the hope of many nations. The American people should impress upon their representatives in the Senate that there can be no more effective way of providing for the common defense than by the negotiation and completion of just such treaties as the Kellogg pact.

"Armies and navies, necessary as they still are and must for years remain, are at best but negative means of defense. The positive way lies through cooperation and friendliness and treaties of arbitration and conciliation.

"If on this tenth anniversary of the first great Armistice Day there should arise all over this land an insistant demand for the prompt ratification of the Kellogg pact as another great step in international co-operation, the day would be most fittingly observed; we would still be keeping faith with the boys who lie in Flanders' Fields and elsewhere under the wooden crosses."

Work on the new brick high school building is progressing rapidly, with activities largely on the inside. Most of the outside construction is in place and it outlines a fireproof building of which the town will be proud. It is expected the rooms will be ready for occupancy before the Spring term opens.

AGGIES WILL DO CUSTOM KILLING

Preparations are being made for killing and dressing poultry at the agricultural rooms at Norway High School, commencing November 26th. Only custom work will be done this year, for the birds owned by the department and handled as a project in former years are scattered. The brooding and fattening buildings are not available during the construction of the new high school and will not be put into use until Spring. During the mean time, studying poultry methods has been largely class room theories along with home experience.

Shop work has advanced rapidly during the present term with more equipment of machinery and tools. A useful helper is the new combination cutting off and stripper saw; a planer and boring attachment, in one machine, operated by a one-quarter horsepower motor that plugs into a light socket. An assortment of bits, hand saws, planes and other tools recently purchased, enlarges the usefulness of the project and creates a source of income. The latest has been the construction of egg cases, the 30 dozen size, for town customers. A strict cost system was used for every item to determine the difference if any between the home made and the commercial article. Something interesting was the potato judging contest for the sophomores, using the oblong Green Mountain type.

LOOK OUT FOR PREMIUM SALESMEN

The Norway Board of Trade has been warned by the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce to be on the look out for high pressure salesmen from the Federal Tea Company of Springfield, Mass. Their operations have been annoying and irritating to housewives in Lewiston and Auburn, and the citizens of Norway and vicinity are urged to have no entangling alliances with the salesmen.

When leases for premiums are offered to be signed, then is the time to be on guard, according to the communication.

KEZAR FALLS

Mrs. Bachelder Dead—Meeting of L. M. R. C.—Bazaar a Success—Encounter With Deer.

Armistice Day was duly observed in the Methodist Church by sermon and choir. The music was supplemented by a solo "Brave and True" sung by Gordon West who lost an uncle in the war. Those whose friends sleep beneath the sod are keenly alive to Kipling's injunction, "Lest We Forget."

Mrs. Harvey D. Granville is at St. Barnabas Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Mary Page, who has been several weeks in Lynn, Mass., with her son, Herman, returned home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Page and son, Lucien, of Lynn, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Strout of Saco have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Stanley.

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Caston and daughter, Natalie, were in Richmond, Sunday, to see Mrs. Caston's sister and her husband, Dr. Harry Stilphen. The doctor was moving around his room on crutches after an eight weeks sojourn in the hospital, thankful to be alive and grateful for the surgeon's skill, but evidently "kicking against the pricks" as who wouldn't? A well man, in his prime, ministering to other people's ailments less than three months ago, almost standing on his door step, when like a flash of lightning from a clear sky, the motor cyclist was upon him, felling him to the earth. One stricken, the other grieved and surprised and bewildered. Both victims in differing degrees of circumstance.

Maria, wife of E. R. Bachelder, passed to the higher life, Nov. 7th, leaving besides her husband, two sons, William and Frank, and Rita, the daughter, also six grandchildren. Mrs. Bachelder had many friends who held her in high esteem and was ever ready to lend a helping hand. Services were held at her home on the afternoon of Nov. 10th, Rev. Arthur Callaghan officiating. There were many flowers. Interment in Cornish Riverside Cemetery.

Hazel Ingalls of Denmark spent Thursday and Friday with Ruth Garner.

Hazel Gentleman of Watertown, Mass., was the guest for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garner.

Mrs. Seth Spring and Mrs. Carl Stanley were hostesses to the Ladies' Circle on the afternoon of November 9th. It was a very pleasant occasion and a goodly number present.

The L. M. R. C. met with Mrs. James Chapman, Monday evening, Nov. 5th. The roll call was answered by members with names of prominent politicians, cabinet members and their present problems. Mrs. Orion Black, paper; Patriotic Songs rendered by members; refreshments served by hostess.

The Library Bazaar held in the Town Hall, Friday, Nov. 9th, was well patronized and a grand success judging from results which amounted to $304.00. The Cafeteria Booth, presided over by Mrs. E. G. Caston, Mrs. Harry Merrifield, Mrs. Wm. Stearns and Mrs. Myron Ridlon. The Candy Booth, Miss Ruth Garner and Mrs. Orion Stanley. The Fancy Work Booth, Mrs. F. G. Devereux, Mrs. W. A. Garner, Mrs. Carl Stanley and Mrs. W. T. Norton. The Utility Booth, Mrs. S. B. Stanley, Mrs. Sherman Stanley, Mrs. Walter Mason, Mrs. O. L. Stanley. The Apron Booth, Mrs. E. W. Sawyer, Mrs. E. E. Chapman, Mrs. C. T. Fox, Mrs. C. G. Fox. The Mystery and Ten Cent Booth, Mrs. Olive Gilman, Mrs. Harvey Granville, Mrs. James Chapman. All the booths looked very attractive as did the ladies in charge. To begin with, the Cafeteria Booth looked appetizing, the Candy Booth sweet, the Fancy Work Booth irresistable. The Utility Booth, serviceable. The Apron Booth satisfying and the Mystery Booth enigmatic. The Library has many friends as evidenced by the work accomplished by their nimble artistic fingers which supplied the necessary articles for sale; and the customers were generous in their dealings, for they too were workers for the cause. The Library supplied a long felt want and by a judicious choice of books everyone can be suited and choose their book friends as they please. "Books are keys to Wisdom's treasure. Books are gates to lands of pleasure. Books are paths that upward lead, Books are friends so let us read."

Three brothers, Harry, Theodore and Lawrence Leggett, and accompanied by a friend, Jerry Watson, all of Everett, Mass., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Palmer. They are enjoyable company, able to entertain themselves and any social gathering of friends and neighbors. "Come again" can be taken at its face value and the "Goodbye" also which all know is a short phrasing of "God Be With You."

W. A. Garner and a friend, one evening lately, were in an automobile going to Cornish at a pretty good jog, and were waylaid by a deer, who dazzled by the lights of the auto, made a flying leap from the bank onto the auto, the poor animal broke its hind leg, and was otherwise injured and the auto had to be taken to a garage for repairs. The bumper being broken, also one of the lights. Mr. Garner, having suddenly lost his appetite for deer meat, presented the deer to two of his friends, while he telephoned to the game warden, Verne Black, informing him of the occurence.

WHAT IS INTERNATIONAL GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY?

In the autumn of 1923 an international group of social workers, meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, expressed despair of educating the world to the better day of brotherhood through the customary persuasions of war and diplomacy. Yet the aim was so infinitely to be desired! Could the persuasion of the Golden Rule be made effective? If on an appointed day, say the first Sunday in December, the whole world should sit at a common table, eat bread and salt, think of the hungry and the sorrowing and make a donation for their aid, would not a great advance be made in practical religion?

The idea fired the imagination of the world. Presidents, kings and premiers; the Pope, religious leaders and Patriarchs; powerful financiers, influential statesmen, educators, labor leaders, approved and led friends and followers to a community of thought and feeling such as this old round earth has never known. On the third anniversary of International Golden Rule Sunday, fifty-three countries united in its observance and contributed to the Near East Relief orphans who are the foremost beneficiaries. The day falls on December 2, this year.

ANYONE looking at the Studebaker Dictator would estimate its cost at $2000 or better. It looks like a lot of automobile inside and out . . . it is!

Careless Motorist Scorches His Shoes; Fryeburg Fire Department Also Responds on the Hot Foot

An apalling catastrophe was narrowly averted, Friday evening, when an 'Absent' Abner from New Hampshire stopped at Solari's for gas, then scratched a match to see if it would burn, or perhaps he came down from N. H. to shoot the works. Anyhow, he succeeded in spraying the surrounding area with flaming gas, set his boots afire (so no one could accuse him of having cold feet) and also gave the Fire Department a chance to demonstrate their remarkable agility, in reaching the scene of a conflagration and to display their accustomed prowess and efficiency as Fryeburg's foremost and finest fire fighting force. Luckily none of the curious and innocent bystanders were killed or maimed by an explosion as so often attends an occurrance of this kind; the hapless motorist was allowed to depart, to seek new fields of adventure and Mr. Solari's pulse is rapidly returning to normal.

Fliver editor's daughter has also returned to Normal (Gorham).

Bellows from Brownfield

There are many fine brooks for fishing in this vicinity, but Fred Poor says that Westbrook suits him all right. Well, Freddie ought to know, being as he's fished there quite a spell this summer and always carried a good line with him. However 'twouldn't surprise us any if Freddie, himself, got hooked in the end.

Note: The editor once got hooked, and I tell you, it was a painful experience.

Pretty quiet in Brownfield (when Lewis Danforth is working in Fryeburg).

Will Bennett, who plays on the cornet,
Says it makes him as mad as a hornet

Rumor has it that Sam Hartford will soon move to Fryeburg. Guess Hartford can find a 'new haven' hereabouts.

Smith St. Smiles

T. W. Charles has installed a fine radio set. Tom thought an all electric would be O. K. for him, as he isn't easily shocked; thought too, that he wouldn't mind the cost so much if he could charge it up to 'current' expenses. Besides, Mr. Charles wanted to pay cash for his machine, and he was afraid if he bought an old-fashioned set, he would have to have his batteries charged.

Speaking of radios, Tom Ridlon has a pocket receiving set, which was sent him from New York City. This is a cute little apparatus, but it looks too small to be practical.

Our trucks around the Fliver Plant remind us of a flock of movie stars. Always a lot of re-pairing.

MANUFACTURERS

Can Reduce Such Fundamental Costs as

Labor
Taxes
Land

by locating in the smaller centers of population

WHAT are the costs that vex the metropolitan factory?

LABOR—Inflated by high metropolitan costs of living and frequent turnover.

TAXES—mounting with each new assessment.

LAND—constantly becoming scarcer and more expensive.

ALL THE COSTS induced by congestion with its attendant delays and inconvenience of traffic and shipping.

And another cost, perhaps unseen, but none the less at work—the draining of human energy sacrificed to congested living conditions.

In the small centers of population labor costs are lower because the wage dollar will buy more. Production is more spirited, more interested, because living conditions are more pleasant and fatigue is lessened. Taxes are lower. Land is cheaper.

Present day transportation and the widespread interconnection of electric power have given the small town a metropolitan status with respect to markets and access to raw materials. Such is the case with the hundreds of small communities to which ample, economical hydroelectric power is provided by the interconnected lines of the Central Maine Power Company system, which offer a variety of territorial characteristics.

Operetta, "Her Song"

Rehearsals are being held every afternoon and evening in the high school auditorium. The large cast and choruses of "Her Song", the touching light operetta which the South Paris High School will present in Association Hall on the evening of Friday, Nov. 23, are rapidly assuming the proportions of the best cast assembled for a local talent production. Miss Grayce Mackey, the director, has been working constantly since her arrival to mold the large ensemble into shape, and predicts that the final performance will exceed all expectations. Everyone who has attended the rehearsals is delighted with the progress made.

The feminine graces are charmingly portrayed by the Misses Musa Taylor, as Christine; Reta Shaw as Ann, and Lucinda Ripley as Mrs. O'Hara. The necessary masculine support is being carried by the Messrs Lawrence Gray as Emil; Stephen Russell as Craig; Gordon Stewart as Gartin; Earl Brown as Rufus O'Hara; Bernard Dumas as Harry, and Lawrence Cushman as Blumberg.

Mrs. Ruth Winslow Field is accompanist for rehearsals.

The entertainment is in conjunction with the high school fair and a benefit for the Athletic Association.

Conant Brothers Canning Apples

Solid Pack Meeting With Great Favor

Conant Bros. Company of South Paris expect to can apples most of this month and will be busy until the middle of December, completing labeling and making shipments. The new style of canned apples, known as solid pack called Fruit Loaf Brand has met with a favorable reception by bakers, restaurants and hotels. The pack this year is good, considering the quality of the fruit which has not been as good as that of former years.

Apples grew smaller and required more trimming, which resulted in a yield of fewer cans per barrel. With the large crop of apples throughout the United States, excepting the state of Maine, our local cannery has done well to sell its output in competition with canners in sections where apples have been cheap and plentiful. The flavor of our Maine canned apples has apparently been the strongest selling argument, together with the care used in canning a finished product, entitled to the description, strictly fancy.

Mrs. Horatio Bryant, who has had another ill turn, is gaining slowly.

Sidney M. Ring and Bessie F. Yates of Greenwood were united in marriage by Rev. A. W. Young, at the Baptist parsonage, Saturday, Nov. 10. Kind friends wish them well and look for them to make a creditable record. They have begun life together early enough to have before them the possibilities of a long and useful career, with much to gratify a life of industry, frugality, intelligence and thrift. We look for them to make good.
